16.7. The Purchaser shall not be deemed to have accepted the Goods until it has had 21 days to inspect them following delivery or collection as the case may be. The Purchaser shall also have the right to reject the Goods as though they had not been accepted for 7 days after any latent defect in the Goods has become apparent.

17. Confidential Information

In the event the Purchaser discloses to Supplier any confidential information, including that which may be disclosed verbally, in writing, or through observation of Purchaser's facilities, Supplier will not use such information for its own benefit or disclose Purchaser's confidential information to any third parties, except to the extent required by law and then only upon prior written notice to Purchaser. No information received by Purchaser in connection with negotiating and filling this Purchase Contract will be deemed to constitute a trade secret, or to have been given in confidence to Purchaser.

18. Default.

If Supplier(s) generally does not pay its debts as such debts become due, or admits in writing its inability to pay its debts generally, or makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, or any proceeding is instituted by or against Supplier seeking to adjudicate it bankrupt or insolvent, or seeking liquidation, winding up, reorganization, arrangement, adjustment, protection, relief, or composition of it or its debts under any law relating to bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization or relief of debtors, or seeking the entry of an order for relief or the appointment of a receiver, trustee, or other similar official for it or for any substantial part of its property, or fails to comply with any of the terms and conditions hereof or with the terms and conditions of any other contract with Purchaser, then, the same shall amount to a breach hereof and a default hereunder. In the event of such breach or default, Purchaser shall be entitled to cancel any unfilled part of this Contract without any liability whatsoever and shall have such other rights and remedies afforded to Purchaser for breach of contract under the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods and the Dutch Civil Code, including but not limited to the remedies of incidental and consequential damages. Supplier shall also be liable to Purchaser for Purchaser's attorney's fees and costs.

19. Vendor Authorization.

The Supplier acknowledges that it has been approved by Purchaser as an authorized vendor pursuant to a vendor approval process. To the extent Supplier intends to make any changes to its operations that differ from the operations upon which Supplier was approved as an authorized vendor, Supplier will promptly inform Purchaser of such change and obtain written approval from Purchaser prior to making such change.

20. Audit/Inspection.

The Purchaser and its third-party designee shall have the right to audit and inspect the records and facilities of Supplier and Supplier's agents, representatives and subcontractors used in performance of the Contract or relating to the products or services to the extent reasonably necessary to determine Supplier's compliance with the Contract and all applicable laws and regulations that govern the products and services sold under the Contract. Supplier will provide Purchaser or its third-party designee conducting the audit or inspection with reasonable assistance, including without limitation access to buildings, appropriate personnel, and work space. Purchaser's audit/inspection, or failure to conduct any audit or inspection, will not release Supplier from any of Supplier's obligations, representations, or warranties.

21. Breach.

Any products not in accordance with any of the warranties set forth in this Contract may, at Purchaser's election and sole discretion, be treated as a partial or total breach of contract, and Purchaser may avail itself of any and all remedies available to it including, but not limited to:

- (a) cancellation of the Contract, in whole or in part,
- (b) rejection and return to Supplier, at Supplier's expense, all or any portion of the products previously shipped, whether defective or not and whether previously accepted or not,
- (c) replacement from other sources of the products, and
- (d) retention of products and repair thereof at Supplier's expense.

In any such event, Supplier will be liable to Purchaser for the full amount of such damages as flow from its breach of contract and Supplier will not be entitled, in diminution of the same, to show that such procedures as Purchaser chose to follow upon such breach resulted in greater damages than might have ensued had Purchaser selected other available alternatives. One or more waivers (whether by non-enforcement, non-association, or otherwise) of the breach of any condition, term or provision of this Contract will not be construed as a waiver of a further, additional, or continuing breach of the same or any other condition, term, or provision of this Contract.
